REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

That Editor Cook intended to pursue an independent and fearless course and was not over particular as to whom his remarks hit is apparent from the following editorial paragraph published about the time he took charge of the paper: "If there are any people who do not like the tone and policy of the Times and Gazette it is their privilege to stop borrowing and reading it."

Here is a little notice of the arrival in this section of a gentleman who has since become one of the leading citizens of Redwood City, taken from the issue of the Times and Gazette of July 12th, 1879: "Dr. J. L. Ross, from Illinois, a graduate of the Rush Medical College of Chicago, and a brother of Geo.. C. Ross, Esq., the popular young attorney of this town, has just located in Mayfield for the practice of his profession, and he comes to this country to stay. The Mayfield people will find him a thorough going physician and an acquisition to their social circle."

In the early part of June, 1879, the town of San Mateo was the scene of a burglary which indicated considerable enterprise as well as persistence on the part of earlier day operators along this line line. At the present time it seems to be the idea of the modern burglar that it is absolutely necessary to blow open a safe where its owner has located it in order to secure its contents. With the operator of those days things and ideas seem to have been different, and if the time afforded by the few hours of darkness was not sufficient for the accomplishment of their purpose, there was no serious objection to toting off the whole cheese, safe and all, a few miles into the country where they could pursue their work as leisurely as desired. That this attempt was not entirely successful was due to the fact that a clerk in a neighboring store was not an over sound sleeper, and the bad luck that a railrod warehouse truck was not as strongly built as it might have been. All of which transpired about this wise. About 4 o'clock one Sunday morning a young man who slept in the store of E. A. Husing, where he was employed as a clerk, was awakened by suspicious sounds in the street near the front of the building, and as he opened the door to investigate the sound was greeted with a fusilade of pistol shots, none of which did any harm. Himself armed with a small pistol which he had secured before making his investigation, the clerk returned the shots, then his assailants abondoned the object about which they had been working and decamped for the open country. Investigation disclosed the fact that this object was a safe loaded upon a railroad truck which had broken down under its burden, and that this safe was the property of J. R. S. Bickford, proprietor of another store in the town. Further investigation made it evident that the burglars had gained entrance to Bickford's store through a rear entrance and had first made an effort to breakopen the safe by drilling holes and the use of a burglar jimmy. They had got as far with this work as to cut a hole in the side in an attempt to reach the cash box, when, apparently they found their time growing short and and fearing they would be overtkaen by daylight, decided to remove the safe to a more secluded spot where they could continue operations without danger of being disturbed. It was then they pressed into service the truck at the railroad office, onto which they loaded the safe, rolling it out of the front door. They had gone but a short distance when it was found that the ruck ws no withstand the jolting of the heavy load over the rough street, and interfered with their plan by ignomiously breaking down, and it was the racket caused by the breakdown that led to their discovery and forced them to abandon their booty. Of course the safe was ruined, but as it contained something over $700, which the robbers were unable to reach, its owner was content that he was out no more than the price of a new safe.

City Marshal Appointive Office.

A bill has passed the Legislature making marshals of towns of the fifth and six class appointive by the boards of trustees instead of elective. Advocates of the bill believe that marshals would be more likely to enforce the laws than if they are elected. The bill, it is said, affects over twenty towns in Los Angeles county alone, and scores of others throughout the state, including all the cities and towns in this county.

There are a few lockers in the gymnasium now, so that those wishing such conveniences may apply to Frank Thompson for them. The boys intend putting up a handball court and to generally fix things up as soon as their play of the 17th instant is over.

JUDGE HORNBLOWER, PIONEER, IS DEAD

Judge Frederick A. Hornblower, one of the old attorneys of San Francisco, passed away February 23d. The deceased was a California pioneer, a miner during his younger years and afterwards proprietor of the Golden Eagle Hotel at Sacramento. He was a police judge in San Francisco during the regime of Chris Buckley and later became a lawyer. He came to this city in 1897 and resided here two years. He made one attempt to get into politics, seeking the Democratic nomination for assemblyman, but failed. He returned to San Francisco where he had since resided. Judge Hornblower was a native of New Jersey, and is survived by his wife and two sons.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

What has become of that promised fire alarm system? This is one of the public improvements which should not be delayed one moment longer than is absolutely necessar.

Will some one please explain why the individual citizen who offers a bribe is more blameworthy than the public official, who, in spite of his oath of office, accepts the bribe and betrays the confidence of the people?

Assemblyman Brown of San Mateo county evidently wears no man's "collar." Upon every proposition before the Legislature he seems to have a mind of his own and is not to be driven into line by the "administration whip." Evidently he cares more for the interests of his constituents than the little slice of Gubernatorial pap.

Trustee Hynding is to be congratulated on his insistence that there should be no further delay in the preparations for the year's street work. At the best the intricacies of the present improvemen laws make this work tedious, and the city can take no chances of another winter with unpaved streets.

Wouldn't it be well if you have an important case pending before the Supreme Court, especially one involving your personal liberty, to hire a detective to see that none of the Justices leave the state until the decision of the Court has been finally rendered? Possibly Abe Ruef may have an opinion on this subject.

RESPONSIBLE HEAD NEEDED.

Some step should be taken, and that without further delay, to secure a responsible and an energetic management of our local cemetery. The people of Redwood City owe it to themselves, as well as to general public sentiment, to see that this last resting place of the dead is both protected and improved. Union Cemetery is the last resting place of many of the honored pioneers of this city, and for this reason alone should be a sacred spot in the heart of every resident. More than this, it holds the remains of many of the loved ones of those who are yet with us. Thus its proper care becomes a matter of importance to all.

That some action at this time is imperative, was made evident by the revelation of Trustee Brown at the last meeting of the City Council. That the cemetery has not been kept in the state of care and improvement which it should have been has been admitted, but that its sacred precincts should have been deliberately desecrated is something almost beyond belief. It is hardly conceivable that any person laying claim to the decencies of civilization should so far forget the respect due to the last home of the dead as to permit of such vandalism as has been authoritively reported. It is certainly high time that some effective step should be taken to put an end to such things as this.

Just who is responsible for this unfortunate condition of affairs, if any one is, we are unable at this time to say. But that a remedy for existing conditions can be found there is no question. If, as appears to be the case, the old association which originally controlled this cemetery has gone out of existence, those who are interested in the matter should without delay get together and formulate some new organization which will take over the work.

While this is a matter beyond the jurisdiction of the city council the Trustees have signified their readiness to lend what assistance may be in their power and are undoubtedly ready to back up any movement in this direction with every authority they can give.

Some of our older citizens must be possessed of imformation which will make it possible to provide a solution of the actual ownership and control of the grounds, and these should come forward with the needed information, and the sooner this is done the better.

BAPTIST CONGREGATION TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

Are Taking Necessary Legal Steps to Secure Missionary Support

To Editor Times-Gazette: I wish to correct a false noiton that has gained some currency concerning the Baptist church property:. Namely, that we are are selling and are going to quit. So far is that from correct that the opposite is true—we are preparing for enlargement and improvement. Soon after my coming to the church, five years ago, we attempted to transfer the title of the property to the Baptist state convention in order to render the work more stable. In that tansfer there was a flaw which invalidated the action. We are now correcting the error by a new legal procedure. After the title is properly in the name of the Convention, our State Missionary Society, we will be in condition for receiving a donation from the Society for repairing the interior of the church. We are also planning large improvements on the exterior. In all, more than $1000 is needed and planned for this work.

WOMEN START PLANS FOR CEMETERY IMPROVEMENT.

Redwood City Woman's Club Will Aid in Important Movement.

Despite the inclement weather, the regular meeting of the Redwood City Woman's Club Thursday was well attended. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. E. Cumberson and an hour was devoted to general business.

The president announced to the club that the board of school trustees had very graciously granted them permission to use the gymnasium and grounds for the purpose of holding a flower carnival. A vote of thanks was tendered the board and the date of the festival days was set for May 5th and 6th. Many attractive, novel and amusing features are being planned with the intention of making this a notable event in the history of Redwood City.

The club voted to observe March 17th of each year as Arbor day and will plant acasia trees on their lot in Dingee Park on that date this year and in addition will make an effort to induce citizens to assist in beautifying the town. This subject was given consideration by the club early in January, but owing to the death of the chairman of the Civic Committee—Mrs. Geo. D. Squires it has not been actively entered into. Mrs. Robert Brown has been appointed to fill Mrs. Squires' unexpired term and under her able leadership the club will take an active interest in civic affairs, and the first work will be to try and induce citizens to plant trees infront of their property and to inquire into the possibility of bettering the condition of the cemetery.

After the business meeting, Mrs. W. H. Kelso, hostess of the day introduced Mrs. J. B. Hume, who related in a charming and witty manner interesting incidents in her travels abroad, notable among them being a visit with the famous actress, Ellen Terry.

At the request of the president, Mrs. Hume also told of her observations regarding the Woman Sufferage movement in England which was not only interesting but instructive. Mrs. N. C. Cummings sang charmingly an English balad and with the serving of light refreshments a delightful afternoon was brought to a close.

A PIONEER EDUCATOR TAKES LAST VACATION.

Principal Mann of San Francisco is Called to Long Rest.

Azro L. Mann, principal of the Denman grammar school in San Francisco and one of California's pioneer educators, died at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home at San Carlos after an illness of only three days. He had been afflicted with asthma for several years.

Mann had been connected with the schools of San Francisco for nearly half a century and first met his wife when they were teaching in the schools of early San Francisco. Mrs. Mann is principal of the Hawthorne primary school.

Mann was 70 years of age, having been born at Randolph, Mass., in the fall of 1840. Besides his widow, mann is survived by two sons, Robert L. Mann, an attorney of San Francisco, and Horace Mann, a mining engineer,recently graduated from Stanford University, and a daughter, Mary A. Mann. Attorney Seth Mann is a brother.

CHARLES PATTON AND HIS WIFE ARE DIVORCED.

Charles L. Patton, the popular attorney, and his wife are divorced. The decree was granted in the Superior Court February 9th and the matter was so carefully guarded that it was not known to the public until this week when a persistent reporter made the discovery.

In July of last year Patton filed a suit for a divorce which was dismissed on August 11 of the same year. This was taken as an indication that the couple had patched up their differences and all was well.

It appears, however, that on November 30 of last year Patton again filed suit for divorce secretely, charging incompatibility of temper, and not even his closest friends were aware that the supposed reconciliation had failed. On January 18 of this year the court granted Mrs. Patton's attorneys an order extending time to file an answer. On February 3 the answer was filed. The following day the interlocutory decree was granted Patton and on February 9 judgment on the decree entered.

The Pattons own a beautiful home at Menlo Park where Mrs. Patton spends most of her time. It is understood that all property rights were amicably settled out of court and that Mrs. Paton received the Menlo Park home in the division of property.

STEPHEN MORI FACING SUPERIOR COURT JURY.

Youthful Member of Prominent Coast Side Family on Trial for Serious Crime.

The trial of Stephen Mori, member of a well known coast-side family, who was charged with the murder of William H. Fitzgerald, a San Francisco barber and Spanish war veteran, at BrightonB each last November was commenced before a jury in Judge George H. Buck's court Wednesday morning and continued Thursday and yesterday.

The case has attracted much attention, not only in Redwood City, but all over San Mateo county, because of the prominence of the Mori people in the San Pedro country and owing to the diligence with which the defendant is being prosecuted by the attorneys retained by the veterans of the Spanish war, comrades of the dead man.

The Mori family, consisting of a mother and five sons, are residents of Salada Beach on the coast-side of the north end of the county and have lived there for many years. The defendant in the case is 23 years of age and the youngest of the boys.

Stephen Mori was caretaker of a little lake known as the Laguna Salada south of Salada and Brighton Beach. The lake and some of the surrounding land are owned by the Sharp estate and the Brighton Beach Development Co. of which Percy Hannigan os San Francisco is president. The owners used the pond as a duck preserve and gave orders to Mori to keep off trespassers.

Early on the morning of Monday, November 28, Mori heard shooting on the lake and went down on horseback to investigate. This was about 6:30 o'clock. He had some words with Fitzgerald, telling him to get off the property of which he was caretaker, and then returned to the house.

According to his story, breakfast was not ready so he procured a gun and went down to the lake for mudhens. This time he was accompanied by Joe Parlini, an employe of the Mori ranch.

Fitzgerald was standing by his horse and buggy, waiting for his little boy, Duncan, who was down at the other end of the lake scaring up some ducks. Mori and Fitzgerald had some hot words, which resulted in Mori shooting the San Francisco man, killing him instantly.

Mori gave himself up to Coroner H. G. Plymire at South San Francisco and the same day was taken to the scene of the homicide with the sheriff and district attorney. Mori claimed self defense and his statement was corroborated by Parlini, the only witness, who is an Italian and can not speak English.

During the trial this week Special Prosecutor Lewis F. Byington, former district attorney of San Francisco, retained by the San Francisco friends of Fitzgerald, has been doing his utmost to break down the testimony of the various witnesses for the defendant. He is assisted by District Attorney Swart.

Byington has been attempting to bring out the point tha Mori after ordering Fitzgerald and his little son off the grounds, went back to the house for a gun, and then returned to the lake with Parlini. The evidence introduced also brought out the fact that two shots were fired by Mori, and this has been strongly brought out by the prosecution.

Mori maintains that Fitzgerald reached for a gun and had it in his hands in a threatening manner when he shot him. Fitzgerald's gun did not show a gunshot.

The attorneys representing the defense are Martin Stevens and A. P. Black of San Francisco and E. F. Fitzpatrick of Redwood City.

Among the witnesses before the court were John and Sebastian Mori, brothers of the defendant; P. Hannigan and Attorney Bertram, Towne, representing the owners of the land around the lake where the shooting occurred, and several prominent residents of Colma, produced as character witnesses by the defense.

The summing up of the case by the attorneys began yesterday afternoon and will conclude this morning when Attorney Byington will close for the prosecution.

Hardie, a prominent railroad official of the Southern Pacific Company is preparing plans for a home on his lots in the park.

A friend of Colonel Whitney's has leased the Fee residence in Wellesley Park for one year, with an option to purchase, and is already making improvements on it.

Hanson Home Menaced by Fire.

The elegant home of William H. Hanson on Arguello street had a close escape from destruction by fire Sunday at noon. Mrs. Hanson and her two daughters were down from San Francisco to spend the day. A warm fire had been built in the furnace and it is thought that the sparks falling on the roof caused it to ignite. The fire was discovered by Frank Wentworth who gave the alarm. The entire department responded promptly and the blaze was extinguished without harm to the building.

NO FURTHER DELAYS WILL BE PERMITTED

City Council Will Insist That Preparations for Street Work be Rushed.

There is to be no more avoidable delays in the important matter of preparations for the extensive plan of street work laid out for Redwood City during the coming summer, that is if the Trustees can help it—and they seem to think they can. That was the ultimatum handed by Trustee Hynding to City Attorney Mansfield and City Surveyor Neuman, in whose hands have been the preparations of thedetails of the work, at the meeting of the City Council last Monday evening. And in announcing that stand Trustee Hynding received the emphatic concurrence of the other members of the Council. That Trustee Hynding, who is chairman of the street committee and has taken general charge of the movement for better streets, has been dissatisfied with the progress made for some time has been made evident on several occasions, but the final and emphatic pronunciamento came as a response to a statement from City Attorney Mansfield that delays in the posting of the legal notices for hearing of the improvement resolution for the new assessment district No. 15 would necessitate a post ponement of the hearing.

Although the adjourned meeting of the Council on Monday evening was held primarily for the final consideration of the ordinance providing for the separation of the making of the municipal assessment roll and the collection of city taxes from the work of the county officials, and was attended by all of the Trustees except Beeger, considerable other important business was disposed of.

A communication was presented from F. P. Kierce asking that some steps be taken to secure the extension of the culvert under the Southern Pacific tracks to the spur track on Chestnut street. The communication was referred to Chairman Merrill to confer with the owners of the spur track.

Much of the time of the meeting was devoted to the consideration of various phases of the municipal water problem. First in this line was a careful review of a proposed contract for supplying of water by the Redwood City Water Company. Several conferences between the Trustees and Manager Lovie of the Water Company had been held and the chief items of the agreement agreed upon, but it was found that some clauses of the contract were unsatisfactory and after amend ments were suggested final action was deferred until the next meeting and the contract referred back to Mr. Lovie and City Attorney Mansfield for another revision.

With this matter disposed of the Council proceeded to the consideration of an exhaustive report on the present condition of the municipal plant submitted by City Expert Heyman. This report was an exhaustive one, going into every detail of the management and operations of the system, and offering a number of practical suggestions for the future conduct of this department of city business.

Trustee Swift of the grammar school called attention to the great increase in the cost of water at the school since the installing of a water meter, the January bill for three weeks running up to $32.50. He asked if the school lawn might not be treated as one of the city parks and supplied with water free.

The board was inclined to be lenient with the school and the matter was submitted to the water committee with the promise of a satisfactory adjustment.

Some little delay in the proceedings was occasioned by the ommission of Clerk Plump to bring with him the copy of the ordinance which had been made the special order of the evening relating to the method of making the city assessment. G. W. Lovie took advantage of this delay to urge upon the Trustees that the present year was not a good time to introduce a change, suggesting that the new state tax law was in a decidedly muddled condition, and that there was a probability that it might never be put into practical operation. He also argued that any increase in valuation made by the city must eventua ly result in an increased county valuation, and thus end in a raise in the tax paid for county purposes. The Trustees could not be convinced of this view, and when Clerk Plump returned with the ordinance it was adopted with a unanimous vote.

City Attorney Mansfield informed the Council that a delay in posting of notices would necessitate a continuance of the hearing on the resolution creating improvement district No. 15 until the second meeting in March, and it was at this point that Trustee Hynding took occasion to administer his rebuke for the delay of the work and to signify that there must be a change in methods. As the delay could not now be avoided the hearing was continued until March 20th.

Trustee Brown called attention to a disgraceful condition of affairs in Union cemetery, which burial place was being overrun by the chickens and children of the neighborhood and desecrated. Some of the nearby residents had even gone so far as to tear down portions of the fence surrounding the cemetery.

The council members expressed themselves as willing to assist in keeping up the cemetery if the several owners of the property will co-operate. They request that the latter meet and confer with them on the subject.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Redwood City Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured.

Read what a Redwood City citizen says:

Fred Hassler, 101 Stambaugh St., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often resulted seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxious to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at F. A. Ryan's Drug Store, and their use completely removed the symptoms of my trouble. In July, 1907, I publicly testified in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. During the past two years, I have been free from kidney complaint. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Daan's Kidney Pills."
